

February 17th, 2012

We are now a part of the Britton Group with a change of identity!

Since 3rd October 2011 Unterland Flexible Packaging GmbH is part of the Britton Group, a major European flexible packaging business. In order to reinforce synergies and transmit a common message, Unterland Flexible Packaging GmbH has changed its name by February 17th, 2012 and has become Britton Unterland GmbH.

We will start using the name Britton Unterland GmbH and associated visual identity in our marketing material, website, signage and all communication supports.

We have a strong desire to expand our product portfolio by working closely as before with our customers, and our vision is to exceed the expectations of our current and future customers by providing World Class levels of service, quality and innovation. We are now well positioned to become a major player within European packaging industry.
